During the student teaching experience at global sites, preservice teachers meet program requirements and complete any assignments that are required by their home institutions. Successful completion of Global Student Teaching (GST) through the University of Minnesota, Morris leads to recommendation for teacher licensure through students' home institutions.

Participation in GST requires high academic standards, completion of prerequisite courses, and the necessary preparation to teach abroad. All students who participate in Global Student Teaching must have met necessary prerequisites prior to travel.

To confirm you have met these participation requirements, this form must be completed by your home institution's director of student teaching. Print, complete, and mail the signed form, along with your other application materials, to:
